Investing in the future...

Casimir and Maureen Bednarczyk Memorial Scholarship Established 2006

Casimir was born in Sokol, Poland, escaped to England between the German occupation and the Soviet invasion, and eventually made his way to Connecticut to become an engineer and start a family. Although he was a hard working engineer (he didn't retire until age 80), he always put his family first. He was an avid Star Trek and sci-fi fan, and instilled a love of futuristic and imaginative visions in his children and grandchildren.

Maureen Bednarczyk was a woman who loved life and lived it to its fullest. She seemed to always be laughing, smiling, and telling stories in her Irish brogue. As the matriarch of her family, she made sure that everyone got together to celebrate birthdays, holidays, and for any other reason she could think of. Maureen followed her heart and dreams, all the while making sure to keep her family ties strong. She found a balance between doing what she wanted for herself and doing for her family.

Cas and Maureen's family hope you will enjoy in your life the same pursuit of dreams, love of life, and strong family connections that they did. Best of luck to you.
