Investing in the future...

Alfred Krutainis and Pauline Lacis Memorial Scholarship Established 1997

Alfred Krutainis and Pauline Lacis were Latvian immigrants who resided in Bolton in the early 1960s. Mr. Krutainis was a successful builder, who died in the late '70s, leaving his estate to Ms. Lacis, his companion for many years. Although they had moved to Vernon, where she died in 1987, they both loved the Town of Bolton and wanted to help young people. Establishing this scholarship was their way of saying "thank you" to a community that had helped them to feel welcome in their adopted country.
